

The Aim of the workshop

The planned "International Workshop on Production Capacity Cooperation and Green Development within the Belt and Road Initiative" is to summarize the past experience, analyze the problems and challenges, and find the solutions, which may make useful suggestions to help a steady progress and development of the production capacity cooperation within the Belt and Road Initiative.

The workshop is planning to invite renowned scholars from countries and regions like Russia, South Africa, Kazakhstan, Germany, Italy, Spain, Singapore, Japan, etc. The workshop will focus on and discuss the subjects including: infrastructure construction and financing, oversea industrial park problems, the effects of Chinese enterprises' outflow of Foreign Direct Investment (FDI), the oversea industrial safety, the difficulties and obstacles in international cooperation in production capacity, the environmental-friendly development of the Belt and Road Initiative.

Theme of the workshop

The International Cooperation in Production Capacity and Environmental Responsibility within the Belt and Road Initiative.

Title of the presentation

Concept and Measurement of Social Futuring:
Analyzing positive contribution of the Belt and Road Initiative.

Presenters

Prof. Zoltán Oszkár Szántó¹

Prof. Petra Aczél²

János Csák³

Affiliation of presenters

¹ Senior Researcher, Social Futuring Center, Corvinus University of Budapest

² Head and Senior Researcher, Social Futuring Center, Corvinus University of Budapest

³ Head of the Project ConNext 2050, Social Futuring Center, Corvinus University of Budapest

